	Communication	We will give a presentation on our archaeological findings of a Viking burial mound.
	Mathematics	We can practise any parts of Maths that we are finding tricky by logging into our account on MyMaths.
RE	We will look at the part their religion plays in the daily lives of Buddhists, learning from and about their holy texts, festivals and traditions. We will look at the codes within Humanism and compare this to codes from religions we have studied. We will also study the impact religion took in the Viking era and the impact King Cnut had on Christianity.

PSHE	We will think about our responsibility to keep ourselves physically and mentally fit, before going on to increase awareness of British Values and how we can guard against radicalisation and becoming vulnerable.
SMSC Opportunities	Social	Moral	Spiritual	Cultural
	Throughout the school day we are encouraged to collaborate, learning the importance of cooperating and working as part of a team. When there is a conflict between us, we are given help to resolve it effectively.	We spend time discussing the difference between right and wrong and the reasons for consequences to our actions. We will look at the resistance and conflict within the Viking and Anglo-Saxon era and debate whether violence can ever be justified.	We are involved in collective worship every day and are given the opportunity to explore the theme throughout our lessons, where we can reflect upon our own feelings and beliefs.	We will take part in festivals and celebrations from around the world, as well as closer to home. Ascension Day, Pentecost, and Ramadan are just some which we will be celebrating this term.
Fundamental British Values	Democracy	Rule of Law	Individual Liberty	Mutual Respect
	We will use persuasive arguments to discuss democracy today and how this could have altered the Viking era.	We will compare our rules of law in modern Britain to law within during Viking era and which aspects of Danelaw are still in use today.	Discuss and debate what individual liberty Vikings and Anglo-Saxons were given.	Once again link our own understanding of mutual respect to that during the Viking era.
